BROUGHT TO YOU IN PART BY:

SPECIAL GUEST SPEAKER: ENTREPRENEUR, DESIGN ENGINEER,
INVENTOR AND ALL-AROUND PROBLEM
SOLVER, BRENT REGAN

Mr. Regan is the founder and President of Regan Designs, specializing in designing electromechanical products. Among his successes is the Chelton Flight Systems "glass cockpit" instrumentation suite. Outside of the aviation industry, he developed prototypes for the Liquid Robotics "Wave Glider," which won the 2010 Wall Street Journal Technology Innovation Award. He also co-founded Schilling Development, a world leading producer of advanced telemanipulator systems for hazardous environments. A variety of high-tech industries have benefitted from his expertise including medical, defense, marine and automotive.

Mr. Regan is a private pilot holding an instrument rating. He completed his own Lancair IV-P in 1992, which won an Oshkosh Outstanding Workmanship Award, the Great Cross Country Air Race in 1996, and the Redmond 100 race three times.

Come to the LOBO banquet at AirVenture 2012 and hear Brent Regan's talk titled Glazed and Confused: History, Shortcomings and Advantages of Glass Cockpits.
